

How do I remove a course that I had last semester?

Enrollment in a course is maintained by the faculty. When a course is completed and all materials for the course are archived, your instructor will remove you from the course. Administration of this feature rests with the faculty in order to provide ample time for course archival.